

Rough and Tumble Crafts

Jen Hammons, Site Supervisor

In an effort to get more boys interested in the arts and crafts table, we created a club called Rough and Tumble Crafts. Geared towards boys and girls both, we put together ping pong shooters, 3D monster pictures, and our latest creation, the pom pom catapult. The kids loved figuring out how to assemble it, but of course their favorite part was shooting their ammunition. Once everyone finished building, the counselors had them line up and compete to see whose pom pom went the furthest. They had so much fun shooting them, they didn't care!

Public Speaking

Jen Hammons, Site Supervisor

Our new Head Counselor, Mr. Schwab, has created an unusual and exciting opportunity for the kids in the form of our Public Speaking club. The students do such interesting things as interviews, speeches drawn from a hat, and debates. This last time they created a small speech about themselves, then took turns on the microphone. It's a great club for kids that are a little shy, to give them practice and confidence in speaking up. And we enjoy being the audience!
