

Who Are You?

Jennifer Hammons, Site Supervisor

The new clubs have gotten off to a wonderful start. Our new staff have brought their own spin on things, and the kids are loving it. First up is Ms. Brown's paper plate mask club. Instead of creating a template for the kids to follow, she instead provides a simple paper plate, then asks them to go, well...wild. Animals, after all, were the subject of the first day. As you can see, their creations were as varied as the animal kingdom itself.

Drawing Outside the Box

Jennifer Hammons, Site Supervisor

Another of our new clubs is Mr. Andrews' Paper Crafts club. Combining the students' love of comics and drawing, he showed them how to create their very own comic. With simple boxes as inspiration, the kids did a fantastic job with the storylines, drawings, and dialogue. It was hard to get them to break away from their creations when it was time to clean up. We hope some of the parents got to see and enjoy the efforts of our budding writers. Perhaps we'll see the next Stan Lee!
